LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Penitentiary Board was asked Wednesday by Dr. Austin R. Stough of Montgomery, Ala., to allow him to continue to operate the Cummins Prison Farm blood plasma program.

The board is considering contracting the program to the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

A board member claims Dr. Stough has made $300 a day from the plasma program. Dr. Stough has been buying blood from the inmates since 1963 at $5 a pint and selling it to Cutter Laboratories.

A legislative resolution in February asked that the medical center take over the program. Medical Center officials estimated that the prison's share of the sales would be $70,000 to $80,000 a year.

John Haley, of Little Rock, a board member, said the prison would use the money to improve medical services at the prison. He said Medical Center officials were enthusiastic about the possibility of research training in the prison medical program.

CONGRESS TOLD From Page One

tive bargaining.

The new presidential panel would file its findings with Congress and the White House along with any modifications, if there is still no agreement by the 60th day.

If this does not bring a settlement by the 91st day, the proposals for settling the wage dispute would go into effect for up to two years, retroactive to last January 1.

"I urge these railroads and unions to finish this job themselves," Johnson said.

"All Americans recognize that there is a management interest and a labor interest. But there comes a time when the interest of management and the interest of labor must be the public interest—a time when people must be fed, when soldiers must be supplied, when water must be kept potable, and when factories must not be allowed to close down for lack of materials," Johnson said.

Johnson's proposals would provide as a basis for settlement the recommendations of a special three-man mediation panel he named earlier. The recommendations include a 6 per cent general wage increase for the 137,000 workers involved over 18 months, plus three 5-cent wage hikes for skilled workers at 6-month intervals.

The new five-man presidential board in today's legislation could modify this. Johnson said all five members will be public members.

Pacification Program Is Failure

By JOHN T. WHEELER
SAIGON (AP) — Intensified Viet Cong attacks are seriously battering the South Vietnamese government's latest pacification program, raising the specter of another failure in Saigon's efforts to win over the countryside.

In the first four months of this year 309 Communist attacks on pacification teams killed 218 government workers and wounded 299. Another 51 are missing and presumed captured, and several hundred of the government troops deployed to protect the pacification teams have been killed.

In all of 1966 there were only 25 attacks against a pacification program, now generally regarded to have been over-ambitious and ineffectual.

The scaled-down, more aggressive program launched this year appeared to be catching on. Captured Communist documents made clear that Revolutionary Development teams, as the pacification forces are now known, were No. 1 targets.

American sources say it is too early to talk of a crisis in the program, but they report concern over the situation. Some U.S. officials fear that continued high casualties to team members could destroy the esprit de corps that has been built up and ultimately wreck the program.

All pacification programs during the past eight years failed, primarily due to poor planning and military reverses. Should the latest plan fail with some 440,000 American troops in the country, the effect in Vietnam and on Washington could be serious.

The worst deterioration is in the two northernmost provinces where American Marines and government troops have not been able to prevent pacification teams from being overrun or forced to flee for their lives. Many cadres, as the team members are known, have deserted, including 50 from the Hue region alone.

A month ago Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, the revolutionary development minister, warned that Viet Cong documents showed the Communists were prepared to do their utmost to crush what they considered a vital threat. Thang said success or failure of the pacification effort might be decided by June.

One source says nearly 1,000 Communist troops died during the attacks on the teams or military forces protecting them.

Thang has about 20,000 pacification workers spread through 50 areas. Their main protection comes from 60 government battalions. The 60 battalions are not enough, and some are less than enthusiastic about the constant parolling needed to shield teams from Communist bands.

Professor Defies State Department

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Yale Prof. Staughton Lynd has taken a year's leave of absence to live and work in Chicago.

Lynd attracted international attention in December 1965 when he made a trip to North Vietnam in defiance of State Department rules.

The campus newspaper, the Yale Daily News, said in a story Tuesday that Lynd would work without pay for the Chicago Organizing School, described as a recently-formed activist training center.

Lynd described the story as accurate but declined to elaborate on it.

GOP Ranks Form Behind LBJ Policy

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican backers of President Johnson's Vietnam policies tightened their ranks today against any party declaration criticizing the conduct of the war.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, followed up a call by Barry Goldwater Wednesday night for the GOP to stand solidly behind Johnson with an assertion he sees no need now for the kind of formal party policy statement GOP Senate dissenters are demanding.

Goldwater deplored in an interview a Senate Republican Policy Committee staff report critical of Johnson's actions. He said he suspects an effort will be made to write some of its criticisms into the 1968 GOP platform.

The 1964 Republican presidential nominee predicted any such effort would be defeated.

"In my travels about the country I have found that an overwhelming majority of the Republicans — and the Democrats, too — back the President, especially now that he's doing the things that need to be done to win the war," Goldwater said.

"The Republican party that I know is not going to buy any platform plank that says the Republicans are not backing the President."

The policy committee staff report which exposed differences among Republicans said the GOP should not take responsibility for Democratic "mistakes."

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen has promised that the Senate-House party leadership will take up the matter of a Vietnam policy declaration at its next meeting.

But Hickenlooper, head of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and a member of the leadership group, said he thinks the GOP position already is known and "I don't see any necessity for any further statement."

"Fundamentally," he said in an interview, "we're supporting our boys fighting in Vietnam. There are arguments over how we got into this war and what is being done, but we want victory."

Dirksen already has lined up a policy committee majority for a pledge of wholehearted support for the President.

Americans Had Loot From Holdup

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — Police said today they still were trying to learn by questioning how two Miamians arrested here obtained travelers checks listed among loot from a $620,000 pier holdup in New York.

Ralph Almonte, 45, and Glida Melina, 19, were captured by detectives Wednesday in the parking lot of a supermarket after a cashier found the check numbers on a list circulated around the world.

The couple, who gave different addresses, were held under $20,000 each federal bond on an FBI complaint of interstate transportation of stolen property.

U.S. Commissioner Edward P. Swan said he would hold a hearing for them Friday.

Both also were charged by police with forging checks. Almonte, who police said tried to escape first with a gun and then with money—also was charged and held without bond on state charges of assault, possession of stolen property and bribery.

Neither the FBI nor detectives would say how many stolen travelers checks were recovered. It was reported the FBI had a search warrant for Almonte's home in the Coral Gables suburb of Miami.

Officers said store manager Robert Deville tried to delay Almonte who said, "I would advise you not to follow me as I

New Trials for Sinatra Kidnapers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rerun of a flamboyant kidnap trial—the Frank Sinatra Jr. case—is set for the courts of Los Angeles, by order of the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Two of the three men convicted in the 1963 abduction and ransom of the young singer were granted new trials Wednesday, but the U.S. attorney's office in Los Angeles was considering whether to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to review the decision.

Granted new trials by the San Francisco court were John William Irwin, 45, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, 26. A third defendant, Barry Worthington Keenan, 26, had dropped his appeal, and his sentence at that time was cut to 12½ years.

Some confusion about the decision for new trials was evident, and the 23-page written opinion was not immediately available.

Ass't U.S. Atty. Dick Urdan, chief of the criminal division in San Francisco, telephoned word to Los Angeles that the reversal appeared based on the contention that the defendants were not given rights required by federal law in capital cases.

Urdan said there was no contention on the government's part that the Sinatra kidnaping was a capital case because Sinatra, 19 at the time, was not harmed.

But, he explained, the appeals court ruled that because a death penalty was possible, the defendants should have been given the rights provided by law.

The rights include 20 peremptory challenges of prospective jurors, instead of the normal 10. The government is also required to furnish the defense with a list of witnesses and prospective jurors three days before the trial.

None of these requirements was fulfilled, said Ass't. U.S. Atty. Robert L. Brosio in Los Angeles, because it was not asked by the defense and it was not believed to be a capital case.

Amsler's attorney, Morris Lavine, said he understood the case was overturned on the basis of a U.S. Supreme Court decision making kidnaping a single offense.

"My client was charged and convicted on six counts," Lavine said. "They split everything up into six counts."

Lavine also said he may suggest to the court—when the new trial is scheduled—that "my client has already been in jeopardy," and that he should not be retried.

Amsler originally was given a life term, later reduced to 25 years. Irwin was sentenced to 16 years and 8 months on conviction of conspiracy to kidnap, making ransom demands and receiving ransom.

Amsler and Keenan were convicted of abducting young Sinatra at gunpoint Dec. 8, 1963, from a lodge at a Lake Tahoe, Nev., gambling casino, where he was appearing as a singer.

After the boy's actor-singer father paid $240,000 ransom in old, small denomination bills, his son was released.

Chung Park Re-elected in Korea

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH
SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park was re-elected by a landslide today in the most orderly election since South Korea got its independence from Japan in 1945. His chief opponent quickly raised a cry of ballot stuffing on a huge scale.

With 80 per cent of the unofficial returns in, the government broadcasting network said the 49-year-old candidate of the ruling Democratic Republic party had won with 5,003,520 votes. Park's chief opponent, former President Yun Po-sun of the New Democratic party, had 3,789,463 votes, and four splinter group entries totaled about 300,000.

The size of his victory margin was a triumph for Park, who had defeated Yun in 1963 by only 150,000 votes.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

WIN YOUR OWN WARS, CHUM
Dear Helen: Last Friday night the girl I used to go with made it quite clear she would like to go with me again, so I gave her back my ring. By the way, the last time, she dropped me like a hot potato when she found someone new.

The next night I went to a party where I met Jan, and I liked her better than Judy, who now has my ring. But I couldn't say anything because of Judy, who was also there.

Well, by the time I decided I liked Jan better than Judy, George entered the picture. He is now trying to get Jan, and his friends are all helping him. My friends are helping me to persuade Jan we should get together.

Then there's Judy's friends, who are mad at me for changing my mind.

All in all, I have a three-way civil war on my hands and I'm not sure how it happened. I don't want to hurt anyone, but I want to date Jan. How do I go about it? — J. R.

Dear J: Why don't you ask her? But first tell Judy you think you should both play the field. And get your ring back. — H.

Dear Helen: Hey, why don't you have some S. O. S. buttons made and offer them to the kids who want to Stamp Out Steadying? I bet you'd get a million takers. Going steady is so darn complicated. All my friends would rather not, but how do you start the new deal, without a button to say where you stand? Buttons are very big. Please give us an S. O. S. button, Helen! — AGAINST STEADIES.

Dear Kids: Anyone for S. O. S. buttons? Let me know, and I'll see what I can do. — H.

Dear Helen: I've had so many terrible experiences with sex that I'm scared of all men. A "friend" of the family made advances to me and I couldn't tell because I was so scared. I've had drunks chase me home from the theater. Then a psycho jumped out of an alley near school. I was wild with fright. Later the police picked him up.

Here's my problem, I have two male teachers and I'm flunking in both their subjects. My folks say I'm making up my story of men and it's just an excuse for my bad grades, but honest, I have nightmares and I just can't go on like this. Please help! — SCARED

Dear Scared: Tell your folks everything that has happened to you, and don't omit the "family friend's" advances. He's dangerous not only to you but to other young girls.

If they won't believe you need expert counseling, they're far too insensitive to be the parents of a daughter. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble, or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bittel in care of Hope Star, Copyright, 1967, Inc.

Both Were 9th Inning Victims

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Mr. Lomborg, say hello to Mr. Talbot.

Boston's Jim Lomborg and New York's Fred Talbot both staked claims to charter membership in the hard-luck pitchers club Wednesday night.

Both nursed slim leads all game long and both were victims of ninth-inning misfortune. Lomborg, in fact, was working of a no-hitter for six innings and then a one-hitter until California caught up with him in the ninth and won 2-1.

Talbot, for his part, went into the ninth with a two-run lead over Minnesota, but an error by outfielder Tom Tresh opened the gates and the Twins pulled off a 4-3 triumph.

Lomborg's undoing was more of his own making than Talbot's. After giving up a seventh-inning single to Jim Fregosi, the 24-year-old Boston right-hander stopped the Angels until the ninth when, with one out, Fregosi got the second hit off him.

Then Jay Johnstone and Rick Reichardt discovered Lomborg was human and got singles of their own. Reichardt's driving in Fregosi to tie the score. Boston Manager Dick Williams left Lomborg to face his own dilemma and, after Jimmie Hall was purposely walked, Don Wallace fouled out.

But Lomborg came apart at the seams, uncorked a wild pitch and Johnstone tripped across the plate with the winning run.

Talbot's undoing was, if anything, even more heart-rending through in the end, he didn't have to take the defeat. Mickey Mantle's 499th career home-run home had helped stake him to the 3-1 lead he carried into the ninth inning.

Zoilo Versalles singled and Harmon Killebrew walked and Hal Reniff came in to pitch. Bob Allison walked and was forced at second by Andy Kosco with Versalles scoring on the play. Then Russ Nixon popped out and Tresh's turn at disaster appeared.

Ron Clark hit a pop into short left and Tresh, charging in, missed the ball, allowing Killebrew to score the tying run.

"I just couldn't catch up to it," said Tresh. "It came down funny and when I grabbed for it I just missed it."

Rich Reese drove in the winning run with a single to right, driving in Allison and pinning the defeat on Reniff.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland beat Baltimore 5-1, Washington took Kansas City 6-1 and Chicago edged Detroit 2-1.

In the National League, Pittsburgh outgassed Los Angeles 6-5 in 15 innings, St. Louis blanked Cincinnati 2-0, Philadelphia shut out Houston 1-0, San Francisco bombed New York 8-0 and Atlanta beat Chicago 4-0.

The Yanks and Twins played in bitter cold on the northwestern tundra, bringing renewed outcries from the Yankees players who claimed the weather was more suited to fireplaces than fly balls and promised to fight for a rule forbidding such cold-weather play.

Sonny Siebert drove in three runs with a homer and double and held the Orioles to seven hits. Rocky Colavito added his first homer of the season for the Indians.

Phil Ortega pitched a four-hitter and Frank Howard's two-run single was the big blow in a four-run seventh inning for the Senators.

The White Sox moved into a first-place tie with the Tigers on the strength of run-scoring singles by Pete Ward and Tom McCraw. Bob Locker saved the victory for starter Gary Peters.

SOLUNAR TABLES

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below has been taken from Richard Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Use Central Standard time.

Braves Now Hit Road in Flag March

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Billy Hitchcock's Atlanta baseball team is putting up a brave front at home. If the Braves can do as well on the road, it could take them all the way to the World Series.

Atlanta blanked the Chicago Cubs 4-0 behind Dick Kelley's three-hitter Wednesday night for its 10th victory against only two setbacks in Atlanta Stadium. The Braves' record in opponents' ball parks is only 1-5.

The triumph moved Atlanta to within only two games of Cincinnati, the National League leader. The Braves and St. Louis are tied for second.

Kelley's shutout was one of four pitched in the NL. Ray Washburn had a two-hitter as St. Louis downed Cincinnati 2-0, Juan Marichal of San Francisco scattered four hits in an 8-0 triumph over the New York Mets and Chris Short yielded five hits as Philadelphia edged Houston, 1-0.

There would have been five whitewashings, too, except that the Los Angeles Dodgers blew a 5-0 ninth inning lead achieved behind Don Sutton, and finally were beaten by Pittsburgh 6-5 in 15 innings.

In the American League, Cleveland beat Baltimore 5-1, Minnesota edged the New York Yankees 4-3, the Chicago White Sox defeated Detroit 2-1, Washington trounced Kansas City 6-1 and California nipped Boston 2-1.

Mack (The Knife) Jones also had a piece of the Braves' action. He hammered a two-run homer in the eighth. Kelley gave up only a triple to Billy Williams in the first inning, a single to Don Kessinger in the third and another single to Glenn Beckert in the sixth.

A two-run single by Mike Shannon backed Washburn's excellent performance. Shannon punched a drive to right after a single by Roger Maris, a double by Orlando Cepeda and a walk to Tim McCarver had filled the bases in the fourth.

The only hits Washburn gave up were a two-out single by Pete Rose in the fourth inning and a two-out single by Chico Ruiz in the next frame.

Jim Ray Hart, Willie Mays and Hal Lanier were San Francisco's batting stars. Hart hammered a three-run homer while Mays contributed a two-run triple and Lanier a two-run double. It was Marichal's 18th career victory over the Mets without a loss.

Johnny Callison homered in the fourth inning for the only run in the Phils-Astros game. The shot was the difference in the duel between Short and Larry Dierker. Short fanned six and walked four in lifting his record to 2-2.

Relief pitcher Juan Pizarro won his own game for the Pirates. He singled with the bases filled and none out in the 15th. Los Angeles was leading 5-0 in the ninth when the Pirates exploded for five runs.

After singles by Matty Alou and Maury Wills, Sutton walked Willie Stargell. Phil Regan, the Dodgers' ace reliever, came in and gave up a run-scoring single to Bill Mazeroski, a three-run double to Donn Clendenon and a single to Gene Alley that drove in the tying run.

ball player seeking reinstatement of his eligibility. Conference officials won't even say that it is on the agenda but reportedly the boy has been promised a hearing, this coming after his father threatened suit when the youth was declared academically unqualified for an athletic scholarship.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the conference, declined comment on whether the hearing would be held but did say that any action on any matter would be reported to the press. Meaning that if the hearing is held there will be a report.

Otherwise, the conference will discuss many items, probably the most important being whether freshmen will be made eligible for varsity competition in all sports except football and basketball.

More equitable rules for the start of fall football practice will be discussed and there were prospects that they will be modified. This was caused by Southern Methodist opening its fall semester two weeks earlier than anybody else.

Getting rid of the limitation on visits to athletic prospects to conform to other conferences will be discussed.

Palmer Is Thrust Into Favorite Role

By RONALD THOMPSON
HOUSTON (AP) — Wet, windy and wealthy, the $115,000 Champions International had a true battle of champs on its hands today as 100 of golf's best sought its bankroll.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer was thrust into his not-so-unusual role as favorite to grab the $23,000 first place money, yet he complained he just wasn't playing good at all.

"I three-putted three or four greens," he said after a practice round Wednesday with Masters champ Gay Brewer and big Jack Nicklaus, who also looked for the putting touch that had escaped him.

"There's nothing wrong with my game that a few one putt greens wouldn't cure," Nicklaus said. Unlike Palmer, however, he said after the warm-up, "My game wasn't bad today."

Brewer stands a chance this week of wresting the year's money lead from Palmer, who with victories in the Los Angeles and Tucson Opens, has banked $73,273.

"Arnold doesn't pay attention to such things, but I do," Brewer said, scanning a list of the financial kings. "This is something new for me. Arn's used to it."

The list showed Brewer second, less than $6,000 behind Palmer. Last year, he finished fifth with over $75,000, more than double his earnings in any year since turning pro in 1956.

Brewer also said he hadn't been playing well since his dramatic Masters victory earlier this year. "I laid off after the Masters, and lost my timing. It's coming back, though."

Rain gave the wooded, rolling course a good soaking Wednesday. Tournament sponsors hoped they wouldn't be faced with the same problem they had last year when the event was postponed from spring until fall because of rain.

Most pros who tested the course in practice rounds agreed it was playing long because of the brisk winds and water.

Palmer won last year in dry weather with a nine-under-par 275.

"I'd take that any day," said Nicklaus, who has found himself in the position to which he's not accustomed — 23rd on the money list with $14,308.

Nicklaus, however, proved he could be a contender on a long, wet course, outdriving Palmer in an exhibition contest Wednesday. He powered the ball 296 yards to Palmer's 265.

Jimmy Demaret, who helped design the 7,118-yard, par 72 Cypress Creek course, declared the field "strongest of any this year, including the Masters."

Matson Sees a Future in Pro Sports

DALLAS (AP) — Randy Matson, the weight star of Texas A&M, can say he has a definite future in pro sports.

He's going to remain an amateur until after the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City. Then he can take his pick of pro football or basketball.

Matson was drafted twice in basketball Wednesday. Previously he had been drafted in pro football.

Dallas of the new American Basketball Association drafted him as a future. Shortly afterward Seattle of the established National Basketball Association also drafted him.

He told Dallas the same thing he told Atlanta of the National Football League when it took him several months ago: "I'm not going to consider anything until I compete in the 1968 Olympics."

Matson said he hadn't been contacted by Seattle but that he'd tell it the same.

He'll be in Dallas, meanwhile, to throw the shot and discs in the Southwest Conference track and field meet Saturday — and aiming at world records.

Matson also said he won't be graduated from A&M until next spring. Previously he had planned to make it in January.

Wednesday's Stars

PITCHING — Dick Kelley, Braves, limited the Chicago Cubs to three hits as Atlanta shut out the Cubs 4-0.

HITTING — Donn Clendenon hit a three-run double as Pittsburgh scored five runs with two out in the ninth to tie Los Angeles and then deliver a double in the 15th inning and scored the winning run in the Pirates' 6-5 victory over the Dodgers.

NO HULA DANCER he, but manager Wes Westrum of the New York Mets knows how to use his hands as well as his head in the pursuit of victory. Here Westrum and an aide use hand and arm signals to get their message across.

Piston Hit It Rich in Cage Draft

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit's Pistons, fifth and last in the Western Division last season, have struck it rich in the National Basketball Association's college player draft.

Getting two picks in the first round Wednesday, the Pistons drafted Sonny Dove of St. John's to go with the already signed All-American Jimmy Walker of Providence.

They'll have to beat out the New York club of the fledgling American Basketball Association for the services of the spring 6-foot-8 Dove, named New York City's top player.

The ABA team also drafted the flashy New Yorker, a 22.4 points per game shooter and a 14.8 rebounder last season.

In addition, the Pistons expect Terry Dischinger, an outstanding 6-7 corner man or backcourt, back from two years of Army duty. This could make the Pistons a power in the Eastern Division of the realigned and expanded 12-team pro league.

"If we can get some consistency at center, we'll be in good shape," said Ed Coll, general manager of the Pistons. "We were quite fortunate in getting Dove. When we heard that Baltimore was going to take Earl Monroe, then we felt we had a chance for Dove."

Up front the Pistons will have Dave DeBusschere, an 18.2 shooter and the club's top rebounder, Dischinger, John Tresvant, 6-6, and Dove, if they sign him. The Pistons also drafted two other 6-7 forwards, Steve Sullivan of Georgetown and Darrell Hardy of Baylor.

In the backcourt, they will have Dave Bing, 6-3, last season's Rookie of the Year with a 20 point average, Eddie Miles, 6-4, a 17.6 shooter, and Tom Van Arsdale, 6-5, a hustling 12.2 shooter.

At center the club has Joe Strawder, 6-10, with a 9.4 average and 7-footer Reggie Harding, who averaged only 5.5.

Walker, signed to a four-year contract for an estimated $250,000 to $300,000, was formally picked No. 1 by the Pistons. They had been assigned Los Angeles' first round pick (fourth in the draft) by the league because Rudy LaRusso failed to join the Pistons following his trade by the Lakers to Detroit.

Baltimore, picking second, selected Earl Monroe, 6-3, of Winston-Salem State, and signed him to a contract believed to call for $20,000 annually for two years. No terms were announced. Monroe was the nation's top scorer with a 41.5 average.

Chicago, picking third, grabbed Clem Haskins, the 6-3 All-America from Western Kentucky and the Ohio Valley Conference's Player of the Year for the third straight season. He averaged 22.6 last season.

After Detroit, LA's pick took Dove, the New York Knicks selected Walt Frazier, the 6-3 whiz of Southern Illinois' small college and NIT champions.

The other first round choices in the 11-round draft were: 6, Al Tucker, 6-8, Oklahoma Baptist, by Seattle 7, Pat Riley, 6-3, Kentucky, by San Diego; 8, Tom Workman, 6-7, Seattle, by St. Louis; 9, Mel Daniels, 6-9, New Mexico, by Cincinnati; 10, Dave Lattin, 6-7, U. of Texas at El Paso, by San Francisco; 11, Mel Graham, 6-1, New York U., by Boston, and 12, Craig Raymond, 6-11, Brigham Young, by Philadelphia.

Americans Changing Soccer Some

NEW YORK (AP) — The Americanization of soccer is already under way.

The National Professional Soccer League has changed the point system in league standings to put emphasis on offense.

New Commissioner Ken Macker wants to lighten the drama as the first half and the game itself approach their end.

He wants to get referees out of their present dark suits into striped or colored jerseys easily distinguishable from the players on black and white television.

"I'll admit I'm meeting some resistance from our referees, who are very tradition minded," said Macker. "Around the world, the referee keeps the time of the game on a stop watch that only he can see with the result that the end of the half and the end of the game come as a complete surprise to both fans and players."

"Not until you see the players, wander off the field do you realize play has stopped. I think that's all wrong."

"I want to connect the referee's watch electronically to the score board so everyone will know how much time is left."

"I've even considered firing a gun two minutes before the half and two minutes before the end of the game but I am afraid that to some of our players that would only sound as if violence had at last broken out and they'd take cover."

I've been thinking about two referees, one for each half of the field. I do not want to destroy any of the traditions of soccer but I do want to make it as attractive as possible to the American fan. One of our clubs, at the discretion of the general manager, has the power to fine the coach up to $500 if he goes into a defensive game."

"What we have already done has attracted attention abroad. I was delighted to see that the English Football Association has proposed to FIFA, the World Soccer association, that each team be allowed up to two substitutes per game. That's what we set in motion, plus a substitute for the goalkeeper if needed."

Protestants Trying for Plan to Unite

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — After wavering momentarily, the signals today gave a clear "go ahead" for designing a plan to unite 10 major Protestant denominations.

The decision Wednesday night swept away uncertainties voiced during the previous three days over whether to proceed at once to work on an organizational blueprint.

"This really puts us down the road," said the Rev. David G. Colwell of Washington, D.C., chairman of the Consultation on Church Union.

"It means let's get this plan of union drafted as fast as we can do it."

Just how long it will take was uncertain, however.

Drafting committees were authorized by unanimous vote to begin work immediately and to report results a year hence. But expectations were that it would take longer to finish the job.

The denominational representatives also registered a "sense of urgency" in the resolution setting up the machinery for structure mapping as recommended by a committee headed by the Rev. Elmer Arndt of Webster Groves, Mo.

The consultation, in the past five years, reached agreements on worship, doctrine, ministry and sacraments in a united church. Only the organizational pattern still is to be worked out.

Differences over jurisdictional forms, the function of bishops, the extent of congregational autonomy and related issues have made the operating system a major hurdle.

In directing the preparation of an organizational plan, the consultation specified that it should include provisions for mutual acceptance of memberships and ordained clergy among the uniting churches.

It also should provide for a "provisional council" on a national and regional basis to coordinate activities during an interim period of gradual integration before a constitution is adopted.

Episcopal Bishop Stephen F. Bayne of New York said the council would be the "chrysalis and prototype" through which the details of a united structure would take shape as conditions warranted.

This suggested an open-ended flexibility for the projected plan of organization, and further guidelines being shaped for action by the consultation later today stressed that feature.

When the plan is ready, it becomes subject to denominational ratification.

The 10 denominations involved have about 25.5 million members, more than one-third of all American Protestants.

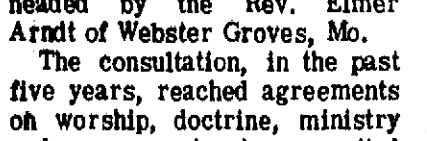

They include: Episcopalians, Methodists, Evangelical United Brethren, Disciples, Southern Presbyterians, United Presbyterians, and members of the United Church of Christ, and three predominantly Negro bodies of Methodists.

4H Delegates Honored

4-H delegates honored their U. S. Senators and Congressmen at a special breakfast during the 37th National 4-H Conference, held April 23-29 in Washington, D.C. The Congressional Breakfast on April 26 highlighted the week of activities for more than 200 boys and girls from all 50 states, Puerto Rico and Canada.

At the breakfast, Linda Kay Reece, Hope; Jerry Jones, Harrison, are shown with Arkansas Representative, John Paul Hammerschmidt. Other Arkansas 4-H'ers were Barbara Lynn Ashcraft, Jefferson County; Kenneth Adams, Chicot County. The representative took the 4-H'ers on special tour through the capitol. They also visited with Senators McClellan and Fulbright.

"Delegates were selected on the basis of their leadership and achievements in 4-H work," according to Bringle Jennings, 4-H Club Agent.

The conference was headquartered at the National 4-H Club Center in Washington, D.C.

All four of these delegates have been active in 4-H Club work for several years; Linda Kay Reece, a 4-H Club member for eight years, has served Hempstead County 4-H Council as song leader and vice-president. She has also served as vice-president and song leader of the Shover Springs 4-H Club and has won several county and state awards. She was first place Foods and Nutrition winner at State 4-H Club Day in 1966. Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reece, has been active in school, church, and other youth organizations.

Linda Kay reports to Hope Star a busy, enlightening and exciting week in Washington.

Outstanding speakers and discussions held by the group were inspiring, says the 4-H'er, but adds other unforgettable experiences such as her being chosen to sing a solo at a Clover Cotillion hosted by Secretary and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman in the Diplomatic Reception Room of the State Department.

The week began with attending church at the National Cathedral, visiting the National Gallery of Art, seeing Leonardo da Vinci's painting "Ginevra De' Beni" rumored to be valued at $5,000,000. The 4-H'ers toured Arlington Cemetery seeing tribute to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, saw monument to two Jimas, toured Lincoln Memorial and saw Jefferson and Washington Monuments, toured Mt. Vernon with 4-H'ers placing a wreath on George Washington's grave. Linda tells of a special tour made of the White House with reception in special reception room.

All met and visited with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Group attended opening night at the National Theatre, "Half A Sixpence" starring Dick Kallman and Ann Wakefield.

Delegates were honored at special banquet, Linda served on music committee that provided music for final program.

Mr. Dirksen Does Well Both Ways

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 71-year-old senator with the unkempt hair and a doomsday voice that makes Dr. Martin Luther King sound like a jolly comedian wanted to be an actor and went into politics. He has done very well at both.

He doesn't just make fun. He draws pictures, like the time he went after the anti-poverty program of his friend and former social companion, President Johnson.

The senator, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate's Republican leader, said he had heard 700 young men wanted to be trained under the anti-poverty program to operate a diaper service.

"That's really getting to the bottom of things," he said. "I'm tempted to say it's time for a change."

He went on Red Skelton's CBS television show to plug his best-selling record album, "Gallant Men," and got into a prearranged argument with Skelton on why a chicken crossed the road.

Dirksen insisted on knowing whether it was a free enterprise chicken or a government-supported chicken.

He has banged and pecked and sometimes ruined a Johnson program — as he did the administration's civil rights bill in 1966 — but he has given Johnson 100 per cent support on the war in Vietnam, or practically 100 per cent.

Twice, he left a sick bed in the Walter Reed Army Hospital to fight for Johnson. He did it last March, when his support was crucial, to back the President just before the final vote on the consular treaty which Johnson wanted.

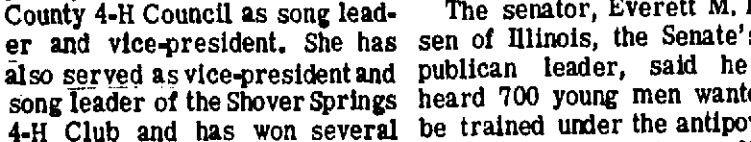

The Senate approved. He did it again this week when, not fully recovered from pneumonia, he barged into a meeting of the Senate's Republican Policy Committee, which seemed ready to tee off on Johnson's conduct of the war.

An orphan albino gorilla is in the Barcelona Zoo. His hair is white, skin pink and eyes blue rather than pink.

Hecklers at Dartmouth Rap Wallace

By CARL C. CRAFT
HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Dartmouth College formally apologized today to former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama for the outburst by white and Negro hecklers which drove him from the stage at Dartmouth Wednesday night.

Dean Thaddeus Seymour expressed regret to Wallace that some Dartmouth students "so flagrantly abused the cardinal principle of an academic community by infringing on your rights as guest on our campus."

He said the majority at Dartmouth felt that a man's opinions deserve a free and unobstructed platform.

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — George C. Wallace, former governor of Alabama, was snubbed by some legislators and driven off the stage at Dartmouth College by hecklers Wednesday night.

About 10 Negroes and whites forced Wallace to stop his speech at Dartmouth when they charged the stage. They shouted, "Wallace go home! You're an insult to our intelligence!"

Wallace retired to the rear of the stage until ushers and guards had ejected the group.

When he returned to continue his speech, he said, "I want to recommend a new book — how to behave in a crowd."

Earlier, six Negroes screaming "Wallace is a racist!" disrupted his speech. They waved signs proclaiming, "Wallace is a killer," but left after about 15 minutes.

Wallace told the audience of about 1,300 that he had "never made a speech in which I reflected on anybody because of race or color."

He said the American "working man is getting tired of a bunch of theorists telling him where he can send his children to school and of the Supreme Court's destruction of law enforcement."

About 1,500 persons had gathered outside the hall, and when Wallace tried to leave, his car was surrounded and buffeted. Police got the car free of the crowd in about five minutes.

The top of the car was dented and the aerial was ripped from it. No one was injured. Police made no arrests.

Class Going to an Asian Campus Yearly

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — The University of the Pacific plans to fly the entire sophomore class of its new Callison College each year to an Asian campus for a year in residence in an emerging nation.

"Education for global responsibility," university officials call it.

Next September, Callison will be the third "cluster college" added to the university. Founded in 1861, the University of the Pacific was the first institution of higher education chartered in California. It enjoys a reputation today for ranking with the foremost in fresh ideas for education.

Take Raymond College, which opened in 1962 to inaugurate President Robert E. Burns' university plan for coping with soaring enrollment by clustering self-contained, smaller colleges around the mother school.

The Raymond student obtains a liberal arts education in three years instead of four. But the years are longer — 10 months — and the prescribed curriculum more intensive. The student takes three courses during each of three terms each year, thus going nine instead of the conventional eight semesters. And class sessions are 80 minutes long instead of 50.

He studies mathematics and a foreign language, a sequence of physics, chemistry and biology, social sciences, and a humanities sequence including world literature, philosophy, fine arts and religion.

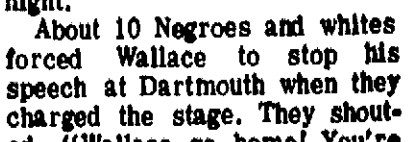

He gets loads of personal attention — tutoring sessions limited to three or four students, classes and seminars limited to 12 — and lots of hard work, but no grades.

Calendar of Events

The Pastor, Rev. J. E. Hughes, and the officers and members of the Bethel A. M. E. Church will present a program, climaxing the annual "Tot" contest Sunday May 7th, at 3:00 p.m., "Youth On Parade" is the general theme of the program, and the featured theme is "Youth Wants To Know" on which the Guest Speaker, Miss DeLois Smith, will base her address. The young people of the church will have charge of the program, with the junior choir of Rising Star and Loneok Baptist, and BeBe Memorial C.M.E. Churches, along with the junior choir of Bethel rendering the music for the occasion.

The public is invited to attend.

Bobeats Do Well in Track

David Jones and Buzz Andrews of the senior team; and juniors John Spraggins, David Still, Doug Rogers and Gary Hollis.

JOHN SPRAGGINS

This Junior runner, John Spraggins, bettered the state overall record in the 440 yard dash in 51.7. He also runs the 220, 440, 880 and mile relay and competes in the high jump and does well at them all. He is a 9th grader.

BUZZ ANDREWS

A new school record was set by Buzz Andrews this year in 180 yard low hurdles with a time of 19.9. This 11th grader took both the low and high hurdles in practically every meet this season.

Says Demos Will Have to Unite

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — House Speaker Sterling Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock said Tuesday that the groups in the Democratic Party are going to have to unite "rather than trying to co-exist as various factions" if the Democrats are to regain the governorship.

Cockrill, 42, said it was his opinion the Democrats would have a better chance to unseat the Republicans in 1970 than they would have in 1968. He said the basis of his statements were the "conflicts" within the party.

"We have so many different factions and cliques and clans that we're going to have to unite," said Cockrill.

He attributed the problems within the party to "a whole lot of independent thinking of different groups who have labeled themselves Democrats but who haven't had to have, heretofore, a real Democratic Party."

Cockrill made the remarks after a speech to a Russellville civic club.

He has been mentioned as a gubernatorial nominee within the next three years but said he has not made a decision whether to seek the nomination or not.

"I can't say yes or no to this because I would not say I would never want to be governor," Cockrill said.

Switches From Army to the Job Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Col. Emily C. Gorman, once head of the Women's Army Corps, has joined the Job Corps.

She will serve as deputy to its director of plans and programs. A native of Pulaski, N.Y., she joined the WACs in 1942 and became corps director 20 years later.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
 The City of Hope will receive bids until 2 p.m. Thursday, May 25, for a frame building, shown as building No. 208, located at the Airport. Successful bidders will be requested to deposit the full purchase price with the City Clerk plus a deposit of $200.00 to insure that the premises will be cleaned up and left in good condition.
 This frame building contains approximately 10,000 sq. ft. of floor space and most all dimension lumber is in good salvageable condition. Successful bidders may examine the building at any time by contacting any of the Airport personnel. Sealed bids should be submitted to Mrs. Frances Reynerson, City Clerk, City Hall, Hope, Arkansas. Any bids received any later than this date will be returned unopened. The City of Hope reserves the right to reject any and all bids waive all formalities, and award the bid most advantageous to the City.

Win at Bridge

Blondie

There are a lot of new bids floating around today. Most are valuable when used properly but like many playthings, they can be very dangerous when used improperly.

North's two no-trump call was the unusual no-trump. This gadget has achieved considerable popularity in expert circles but it can prove very dangerous to its user.

The unusual no-trump shows a minor two-suiter hand. North certainly did hold a fair hand with 11 cards in the minor suits but North was vulnerable and his opponents were not. This time he would have been better advised to give up the idea of bidding at all.

East's double showed high cards and defense against at least one minor. East was ready to operate against clubs and hoped that his partner might be able to operate against diamonds.

South could see danger signals flashing all over and decided that maybe his heart suit was good enough so that he would escape a double there. Hence, his three heart call.

Q--The bidding has been:

You, South, hold:
A A J 10 6 5 2 2 K 4 3 A Q 8 6
What do you do now?
A--Pass. Your partner has already shown a poor hand. He is merely showing distaste for spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of passing over your double, West bids two hearts. North and East pass. What do you do now?

Delegation
Wants Money
for Rivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-state delegation urged Congress today to approve President Johnson's recommendation that $155 million be appropriated to continue work on the Arkansas River development program, including a 9-foot navigation channel.

A delegation headed by Charles D. Maynard of Little Rock, chairman of the Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas Tri-State Committee, made the request in testimony for a House appropriations subcommittee. The panel is considering funds for water projects for the year starting July 1.

The group is to repeat its testimony Tuesday before a similar Senate subcommittee.

Maynard said the group supported each of the individual items in the president's budget for the Arkansas River. He also urged approval of funds above budget recommendations for a few projects in the basin area but placed no dollar figure on these requests.

The navigation channel is due for completion to Little Rock late next year, to Fort Smith in 1969 and to Catoosa, Okla., near Tulsa, in 1970.

Maynard said it would be false economy not to maintain the project's construction schedule.

Many industries, he said, have announced plans to expand or build along the river in order to take advantage of the navigation possibilities.

B&PW, Career Girls Meet

Mrs. Treble Shaw, State B & PW President from Magnolia, installs new officers of Hope Career Girls Club at dinner meeting of Hope Business and Professional Women held Monday night in the Hope High School Cafeteria.

New officers pictured left to right are: Darla James, Reporter; Mary Ellen Holder, Historian; Jenny Tolleson, Program Chairman; Carol Anthony, Parliamentarian; Mary Nell Williams, Treasurer; Gail Hartsfield, Corresponding Secretary; Betty Morris, Recording Secretary; Betty Gaines, First Vice-President; Nellie Churchwell, Second Vice-President; Jeanne Pruden, President and Mrs. Shaw. Mrs. George Hosmer serves as counselor for the Career Club group.

Mrs. Cecil Delaney, Hope, Co-Southwest District Director of B & PW State Organization, introduced the state president.

Perjury Case Before State High Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The jury that convicted former Conway County Newspaper Editor Gene Wirges of perjury in February 1966 was composed of persons favorable to the political faction of Conway County Sheriff Martin Hawkins, the Arkansas Supreme Court was told Monday.

G. Thomas Eisele of Little Rock, a legal advisor to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and the attorney for Wirges, went over the names of several jurors and gave their connections to Hawkins. The jurors almost without exception were state or county employees, welfare clients, members of the county Democratic Committee or election judges and clerks, he said.

Wirges' three-year sentence for perjury was handed down in Conway County Circuit Court after the trial of a libel suit brought against him. Wirges, who published the Morrilton Democrat, disclaimed having written a column that made use of information gathered during his investigation of the political organization controlled by Hawkins.

Mrs. Eulena Stout testified in the perjury trial that she generally had authored the unsigned "Birdtown Birdie" column, but that she had not written the one in question. Wirges' appeal in the case reached the Supreme Court last fall, and was submitted to oral argument Monday.

Retiring Officers of the Hope Career Girls Club are acknowledged by Mrs. Treble Shaw, State B & PW President, for their contribution of service. Linda Luck, retiring president, presided over Career Club progress report and leading group in federation pledge. Kathy Guerin, Recording Secretary, give club accomplishments and Lynda Bearden, Treasurer, reports on projects organized by the career group. Other retiring officers are Elaine Fuller, First Vice-President; Cecilia Delaney, Second Vice-President; Robyn Fromby, Reporter; Margaret Polk, Corresponding Secretary; Ann Mitchell, Historian; Linda Hucksabee, Parliamentarian; Molly Tolleson, Program Chairman.

Somoza Takes Over in Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Maj. Gen. Anastasio Somoza was inaugurated president of Nicaragua, Monday, continuing his family's 31-year hold on the country.

In his inaugural address before a joint session of Congress in Managua's National Stadium, Somoza pledged a regime of evolution at the service of all, with malice toward none.

Sixty-eight Hope Business and Professional members and club sponsored Career Club Girls are viewed as they met together in special dinner meeting this week. B & PW President Velora Bright recognized Career Club Girls attending as guests of the Hope B & PW as follows: Carole Anthony, Martha Badger, Rachel Batson, Sally Booth, Linda Britt, Penny Burke, Donna Byers, Nellie Churchwell, Susan Clark, Kay Coleman, Katherine Coleman, Kathy Feild, Martha Flowers, Betty Gaines, Gail Hartsfield, Judy Hart, Mary Ellen Holder, Twila Hunt, Darla James, Carole Jones, Frankie King, Mary Beth Levens, Charlotte Moore, Betty Morris, Linda O'Neal, Carole Porter, Jeanne Pruden, Peggy Rowe, Jenny Tolleson, Cynthia Trout, Ellen Turner, Nancy Valentine, Debbie Watson, Mary Nell Williams, Sandra Winemiller.

The local club plans to be represented at the State B & PW meeting - June 2, 3, and 4 in Little Rock.

New Hope B & PW officers will be installed at the June B & PW meeting.

A Proper Subject for a State-Wide Referendum

This year's General Assembly enacted a party-affiliation law requiring each citizen to declare which party he belongs to — and, incidentally, to stick with it.

The last half of the foregoing sentence isn't in the law, of course, but it's a fair explanation of what the law means. What the legislature is trying to stop is the habit of citizens to cross up the politicians and vote in any primary they choose. From the professional's viewpoint this is bad practice. A man ought to say whether he is a Democrat or a Republican, vote in his own primary, leave the other party's primary alone, and support his own party in the general election. That's how the professional looks at things — but the great majority of us are amateurs in politics and we disagree with the professionals.

For one thing, if you are required to designate your party before voting in a primary, and you happen to be an independent and have no party, then you are barred from both primaries — and have no vote until the general election. I can't imagine any greater disservice to the Democratic party than this new law, for it was sponsored by the Democratic state organization and if permitted to stand it's going to alienate every independent voter in Arkansas and make a shambles of the Democratic party in the general elections to come.

The problem of frustrated citizens crossing party lines and disturbing party primary results is as old as America. Here it is a Democratic problem, but in Pennsylvania, where I grew up as a boy and cast my first vote, it was a Republican problem. The old Boise Penrose machine dominated the Republican primary for a quarter of a century, usually had spirited opposition from liberal Republicans and a lot of Democratic interlopers voting in a primary not their own — but always the Old Guard won. Then the Republican Organization would publish full-page newspaper advertisements warning all Republicans, "If you don't support the party in the general election you'll never vote in another Republican primary!"

Well, of course, that was nonsense. As far as I know there never was a Republican actually barred from a Republican primary because he voted Democratic in the preceding general election.

Pennsylvania had no luck in stopping the practice of crossing party lines in primaries — and as a competent historian I'll lay my guess on the line that Arkansas Democrats won't have any more success than their Republican brothers in Pennsylvania — law or no law.

Nevertheless the new party-affiliation act is a bad law and should be repealed. A movement is under way to circulate a petition for a state-wide referendum. It is a good move — and we will support it.

Congress Told to Settle Rail Strike

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed to Congress today machinery to settle the threatened railroad strike by voluntary means within 90 days, or a binding agreement after that if necessary.

Johnson said the proposal "represents the slightest possible intrusion upon the process of collective bargaining."

His proposal provides for a special five-man board to engage in intensive mediation for the first 30 days between the railroads and six shop craft unions.

If no agreement is reached by then, the White House board would hold hearings to determine whether the recommendations of an earlier White House panel are fair, in the public interest and would protect collection.

U.S. Hopeful Russia Will Match European Troop Withdrawal

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States hopes its announced troop withdrawal from Europe will encourage the Soviets to follow suit — but has no plans to make such a suggestion, officials said today.

The United States, Britain and West Germany announced Tuesday their agreement to withdraw 35,000 American and about 6,500 British servicemen, both ground troops and air personnel, from West Germany beginning next January. The fighter-bombers of four American and one British air squadrons also are to be withdrawn.

U.S. sources maintain the cut-back will not affect the combat potential of the 7th Army in Germany. American troops assigned to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but stationed in the United States can return to West Germany within days if needed.

Although the Soviets are believed to lag in the use of giant troop-carrying airplanes, they could reciprocate the U.S. move by pulling back their troops a few miles across the border compared with the thousands of miles which will separate the American troops from Germany.

This geographic advantage means, U.S. experts say, the Soviets could follow the Anglo-American example without upsetting the power balance in Europe.

President Johnson in an Oct. 7 New York speech invited the Soviets to consider the "gradual and balanced" withdrawal of U.S. and Soviet forces from central Europe. Such a move, the President said, would "help gradually to shape a new political environment" in Europe.

There was no answer, official or otherwise, from the Soviet

School Act Revision Gets Backing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Wednesday that Rep. Albert H. Quile, R-Minn., has agreed to an amendment to his federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act which Ford said should make the measure more popular in states like Arkansas.

Ford said the under Quile's original proposal states such as Arkansas and Mississippi could suffer a loss in funds. He said the amendment would guarantee that a state's allotment of funds in 1968-69 would at least equal its allotment in 1967-68.

Ford has come out in favor of Quile's plan and said it would reduce the "endless red tape" connected with the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Plane With One Aboard Missing

HOMER, La. (AP) — An aerial search was planned today for a small plane missing with one man aboard on a flight from El Dorado, Ark., to Shreveport. Authorities said James Angel, of the Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport, disappeared during a heavy rain storm late Wednesday night.

The single engine, four-place Cessna 172 was seen circling over Homer with its landing gear lights on. Calhoun Parish deputies turned on the flashing light on a squad car and the plane started following it at tree top level along the highway.

The officers had planned to guide him to the Haynesville airport near Homer, but the plane vanished.

McNamara Defends Missile Plan

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says more American missiles would hit the Soviet Union in time of nuclear war than if the Soviets had not deployed antismissiles.

Explaining this seeming paradox, McNamara used what he acknowledged was an extreme argument to show that the Soviets would face fewer U.S. missiles if they had never tried to defend against them.

This, he said, is because the Soviets' construction of an anti-ballistic missile — ABM — has pushed the United States into countering with a perhaps excessive offensive missile buildup.

As a result, in a nuclear exchange more American warheads would be hurled at the Soviet Union with special decoys, penetration aids and electronic guidance to elude Soviet interceptor missiles, he said.

"I submit to you that the Soviet Union is in worse shape, facing greater risks and potentially greater damage to its people and its cities as a result of deploying an ABM than had they not done so," he declared.

McNamara's remarks were made in March before a closed-door session of a House Appropriations subcommittee as he presented the administration case against the immediate deployment of the multibillion-dollar Nike X antimissile defense.

The censored testimony was released Wednesday night.

Bodies of Airmen Are Identified

MENA, Ark. (AP) — The bodies of two men missing since Saturday, were found Wednesday along with their T-41 Army aircraft on a wooded mountain-side near here.

A Mena funeral home official identified the crash victims as Maj. D. F. Denton, 34, and Maj. L. S. Wiese, 36. Officials at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., later confirmed the identification.

The two men were attached to the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth.

The funeral home official said Denton was identified by a watch which had his name inscribed on it. The official also said the identification numbers on the single-engine plane matched the numbers on a T-41 which has been missing since leaving Fayetteville Saturday.

A man who reported that he heard a low-flying aircraft in the area Saturday found the plane on Rich Mountain near Whitehelm State Park.

Denton and Wiese refueled at Fayetteville Saturday and were reportedly heading for Mena, Wiese was to stop off at Mena and Denton was to continue on to Arkadelphia.

The funeral home official said Wiese would be buried in College Grove, Oregon and Denton near Fordyce, Ark.

2 on Trial for Ignoring Draft Call

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge J. Smith Henley took under advisement Wednesday the cases of two Arkansas men who claim to be conscientious objectors because of their religious beliefs.

The men involved were identified as Viorle L. Vanderpool, 22, of Huntsville and Charles Gilson, 25, of Little Rock.

Henley said he wanted to study the matter but that under the law he probably did not have an alternative but to find them guilty. He said the courts considered only whether a person was ordered to report for induction in accordance with regulations.

Both men were classified I-A by their draft boards and were denied conscientious objector status.

Good Chance Another Army Division Going to Vietnam in Year

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland stands a good chance of getting at least one more Army division to strengthen his forces in Vietnam, government sources said today.

And he could gain two more divisions, depending on the course of the war in the weeks ahead.

Each additional division and its supporting elements would swell Westmoreland's force by 25,000 to 30,000 men.

Present plans calling for a buildup to about 470,000 U.S. servicemen in Vietnam by year's end were completed last fall. The U.S. force in Vietnam was last reported officially at 440,000.

Since last fall, the Communists have intensified their operations threatening the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam, and have built North Vietnamese regular army elements in the buffer zone area to about four divisions.

There is a marked contrast between the way the Communist buildup is viewed by State Department officials on the one hand and by those at the Defense Department on the other.

State Department officials warned late last week that a major North Vietnamese assault across the border may be imminent.

But Defense Department officials, while concerned about the Red buildup, say they anticipate no such invasion.

Acceleration of the threat would accelerate Pentagon consideration of any further reinforcements for Westmoreland.

President Johnson took a low key approach Wednesday to questions about further troop commitments.

"I have no recommendations at this time that I am giving my personal consideration to," Johnson told a White House news conference.

He said Westmoreland and other commanders "have made comments" to the Joint Chiefs of Staff and that the JCS are evaluating these comments.

The President indicated he expects Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, to make recommendations to him in the coming weeks.

But Johnson added that he does not consider any move "immediately imminent" in the next few days or weeks.

In censored congressional testimony March 7 made public Wednesday night, McNamara said more men will be needed but that "we can look to the time when it will level off toward the end of this year." The manpower figure he used was censored out.

Crowded Conditions at Local Plant

An election has been called for Tuesday May 16th, for the purpose of providing funds under Amendment No. 49 for a new and larger building for Hope Wire Products Company.

This Company came to Hope 10 years ago looking for nothing more than a building in which to operate and the good will of the citizens of Hope. We were able to accommodate them in both categories and as a result they started operations in the old Plunkett - Jarrell Grocer Building.

They started with some 25 to 30 employees and presently have approximately 50 on the payroll, but due to limited space in the building they have reached their potential in both production and personnel.

The home office of this plant is in Holland, Michigan which serves the northern and eastern areas and the Hope plant serves the southern and western areas. Company officials in Holland are well known to local people since they visit Hope quite often and Hope businessmen have long considered them an important part of our business community. "They have proven to us that they want to be a part of our community by taking an active part in civic affairs," said George Frazier, Chairman of the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, "and positive proof of this is the fact that they are the single largest contributor to the United Fund program in the county," Mr. Frazier further stated.

The new building will be located on the Hempstead County Industrial Site and will be of metal construction all on one floor for more convenience in their manufacturing operations. Size of the building, as proposed, will be 120' X 240' and it will be located such that it can be served by both rail and truck facilities.

Wallenda to Try Again Without Net

DETROIT (AP) — Five years ago, as the crowd gasped in horror, a human pyramid collapsed on the high wire in Detroit's State Fair Coliseum and two members of the Great Wallendas circus troupe plunged to their death.

Another tightrope specialist, Mario Wallenda, was paralyzed for life.

The tragedy drove Karl Wallenda, senior member of the troupe and the greatest of the Great Wallendas, into retirement for a while.

But the 62-year-old Wallenda has decided to make a farewell appearance in Detroit in the Dobritch Circus May 26 through June 4.

As he visited the empty Coliseum Tuesday, Wallenda stood on the scarred yellow paint of the concrete floor and said, "I think we go without a net."

This would be in keeping with the Wallenda tradition.

Wallenda, who says he was born in a circus wagon, has retired at least twice before. But this time he said he means it.

"I've said it so many times people don't believe it," he mused.

"I used to get mad watching the other artists. I would say to myself, they don't do it right. So I would have to come back and show them."

"But I think this is the last time."

New Building at University

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — W. R. Grimshaw Co. of Tulsa submitted the low bid Tuesday of three firms bidding on the construction of a graduate education building at the University of Arkansas.

The Tulsa firm's bid was $1,368,748.

Construction on the three-story brick building is scheduled to begin within 30 days with the completion expected in September 1968.

4 FOR $1

There's a wonderful family of products at Safeway we think you should know. That's the why for this big sale! Several of these may already be old friends to you: Lucerne, Bel-air and Town House, for example. There are many members of this family and they all wear the famous Safeway mark on their labels. This tells you it's a Safeway Brand and that it's made for or by Safeway under rigid quality specifications. (Naturally, all Safeway Brands carry our Money-Back Guarantee!) The Safeway mark also tells you it's a money-saving brand. We sell it for less because it costs us less. No better time than right now to come get acquainted!
